INTRODUCTION

With the expertise of Pertemps Recruitment Consultancy, we can help take the heartache and effort out of recruitment! We develop successful working partnerships with you in order to facilitate sustainable business growth and wealth creation through innovative recruitment solutions.

This dynamic associate of one of the country's largest independent recruitment agency was established in 2000 to fulfil the commercial recruitment requirements of the local market.

Led by Harriet Fraser, Pertemps Recruitment Consultancy has developed a highly professional service aimed at the commercial and accountancy market.

Working with clients in the local area from small businesses to multi-million pound business'es We have preferred supplier agreements with blue chip organisations in the area which are renewed yearly.

Now with an outstanding track record in exceeding client expectations, Pertemps Recruitment Consultancy have achieved their success through strong leadership and commercial awareness in a nationwide context.

Time, effect and cost are the key advantages when outsourcing recruitment to Pertemps Recruitment Consultancy. We will save you a significant number of hours, not only by sourcing personnel quickly but in the management time involved in the search. An advertisement for instance may lose a week or even a month's lead time, whereas our team of recruitment consultants will be sourcing candidates from our extensive nationwide database the same day they receive your brief.

The time savings can never be understated. If you allow us to screen candidates you can save hours, perhaps days, of wasted time. We can bring the focus and necessary resources required to ease you through the entire selection process. From effective planning and response management to applicant evaluation and support services, our team of consultants will design a hiring process that is tailored to your specific requirements, whatever the time scale.

Our success in exceeding client's expectations speaks for itself. Since our establishment in 2000, we have gone from strength to strength, an achievement which can largely be attributed to our ability to network and maintain excellent customer relations. This has been defined by our hands-on, visionary approach which enables us to refine and develop solution that will add value to your business. And, because we are locally based, our consultants will discuss your resourcing needs personally and take a full brief on specific vacancies.

APPLICANTS

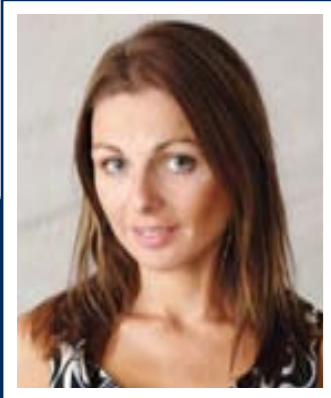

Whether you're 16 or 65, looking to boost your prospects, seeking a temporary position to fit around your lifestyle or something a little more challenging then you'll be reassured to know that we have a strong and successful relationship with many of the region's top employers. This allows us to make hundreds of quality vacancies available to you every week. Once you have registered with us we will appoint a dedicated consultant to support and guide you through the entire recruitment
